

The Riot Presents...

Products to promote self-advocacy and self-determination

~ NOW ON SALE ~

Space Race – a game to teach and learn about self-determination

Space Race is a board game designed to teach people with disabilities and others how to apply self-determination skills to their own lives. Space Race provides a fun activity for discussing what individuals want regarding relationships, community life, work, housing, health, and well-being.

For a limited time, we are offering Space Race for the low price of $25 per game. That's a reduction of 75% off of its original price! We will also include a free carrying case. Additional shipping costs apply.

Learn more about Space Race: <http://www.theriotrocks.org/products/space-race>

To order Space Race, contact Yoshi Kardell at ykardell@hsri.org or 503-924-3783 x 18.

Spotlight on Artists with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities

Purchase beautiful prints created by artists with disabilities at Spotlight Studios, our online gallery and marketplace.

Jenny Lu

Ian Dottin

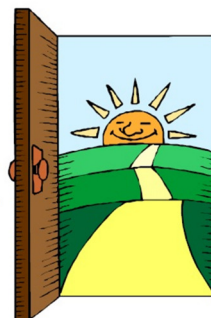

Spenser Acker

To learn more about the above artists, click here: <http://www.theriotrocks.org/spotlight-studios>

Toolkits for Self-Advocacy

Self-Determination and You, Working Together for Change, and Planning and Giving a Presentation are toolkits designed for self-advocacy groups to train members and reach their goals. To learn more about the above toolkits, click here: <http://www.theriotrocks.org/products/toolkits>

Forward this message to a friend